

Internet/Network Acceptable Use Policy

Some activities are unlawful and prohibited. These activities include but are not limited to the use or attempted use of our service:

- to gain access to any material that is pornographic, offensive or objectionable;
- to circumvent any filtering or other content access device or software;
- to interfere with electronic rights management information;
- for illegal purposes or practices;
- in any way which damages or interferes (or threatens to damage or interfere) with the operation of our service or with the efficiency of our Network or a Supplier's Network (including as a result of attempts by you to increase the capacity or performance of your system or Your Equipment);
- to access, store, reproduce, distribute, publish or commercially exploit any information or material of any kind that infringes any copyright, patent, trademark, design or other intellectual property right;
- to send, relay or distribute any electronic data, the contents or properties of which have been manipulated for the purpose of maliciously or illegally impersonating or obscuring the original source of that data. This does not include the use of Virtual Private Networks or similar concepts in circumstances where this is legal and otherwise complies with our rules;
- to access, monitor, use or control any other person's equipment, systems, networks or data (including usernames and passwords) or to otherwise probe, scan or test the vulnerability of any other person's equipment, networks, systems or data, without that person's consent;
- to access, or attempt to access, the accounts or private information of others, or to penetrate, or attempt to penetrate, our or a third party's security measures, computer software or hardware, electronic communications system or telecommunications system, whether or not the intrusion results in the corruption or loss of data. This does not include conducting network security testing specifically requested by the owner of the targeted network or system;
- to use or distribute software (such as password guessing programs, keyboard loggers, viruses or Trojans) with the intent of compromising the security of any network or system;
- to engage in any unreasonable activity which impairs the ability of other people or systems to use our Services or the Internet. This includes any malicious activity resulting in an adverse effect such as denial of service attacks against another network host or individual user, flooding of a network, overloading a service, improper seizing or abuse of operator privileges, and attempts to harm a system or network. For the avoidance of doubt, this clause does not capture an activity solely because it unintentionally contributes to network congestion; or to access, store, reproduce, distribute or publish any content which is prohibited or unlawful under any Commonwealth, State or Territory law or classification system, or to provide unrestricted access to material that is unsuitable for minors.

You must use reasonable endeavours to secure any device or network within your control against being used in breach of this Internet Acceptable Use Policy, including by third parties from:

- The installation and maintenance of antivirus and firewall software;
- The application of operating system and application software patches and updates; and
- Protecting your account information and password and taking all reasonable care to prevent unauthorised access to your service, including taking reasonable steps to secure any Wi-Fi network that you operate.
- Unless otherwise stated, our rights to suspend, cancel or restrict this Service to you applies regardless of whether the breach or suspected breach was committed intentionally, or by means not authorised by you (such as through Trojan horses, viruses or other security breaches).

While CO-HAB Tonsley will make reasonable efforts to ensure the security of our network, we cannot and do not guarantee that viruses and other detrimental programs will not be distributed via our Network. CO-HAB Tonsley is not liable for any degradation in service, increased download or damage suffered by a Member as a result of any program received or sent by the Member over our Network.
